

Abstract

An ocular lens treated so that at least a portion of the lens perimeter diminishes peripheral light focus on the interior of the eye in use, so as to ameliorate photic eye disturbances.

- 5 The lens perimeter of intraocular lenses, artificial corneas and contact lenses are treated to diminish peripheral light focus.